

ABSTRACT

An apparatus for dispensing a sheet like member. The apparatus is typically used to surround the sidewalls of a multiplicity of articles stacked upon the bed of a flatbed trailer to assist in preventing pieces from falling off the articles onto the highway. The sheet member dispensing apparatus may include a frame with a pair of arms in pivotal engagement therewith. The pair of arms would typically include a pair of rollers, the rollers having a sheet like material entrained thereupon. The pair of arms may be pivoted to the use position and the flexible material dispensed from the roller. When a sufficient amount of material is dispensed from the roller, it is cut and then the ends are tied off to substantially enclose the sidewalls of the stacked articles.
